

Automated Jury Information System (AJIS)

AJIS toll free number: 1-800-699-9840

As a federal trial juror for the United States District Court - District of Idaho, you are "on call" to serve for one month beginning on the date that appears on your summons. Your summons will provide you with a specific date and time when you must call the toll-free telephone number prior to your service. When you call the toll-free number at the date and time designated on your summons, our automated jury information system (AJIS) will provide you with current information specific to your status such as the date, time, and location for you to report for your jury service or when you should call in again for further instructions. You will be prompted to enter your 9-digit juror participant number from the front of your summons in order to use this system. This same procedure will continue during the entire time you are on call.

Should any changes be made to the schedule, every effort will be made to inform jurors as soon as possible. However, in the event that contact is not made, it is the juror's responsibility to call the toll-free number the night before scheduled service to verify that his or her presence is required. You must have your 9-digit juror participant number from the front of your summons in order to use this system. The automated message is activated on the evening of the last business day before the scheduled date to appear.

If your service is not required and you nonetheless appear, you will not be entitled to any fees. Therefore, you must call exactly when you are instructed to do so in order to receive your particular reporting instructions.
